Radar shows funnel cloud

On the evening of May 2, clouds boiled and rolled in this area. A funnel cloud was observed near Sabinal by Roy Gullick, a foreman for the Mackey Woodley Ranch three miles west of Sabinal. Mrs. Lewis Shane of Sabinal also spotted the funnel cloud which did not touch ground. At the time the funnel cloud was observed, the National Weather Service Radar Site at Hondo observed a well defined hook echo that is normally associated with a tornado. This photograph was taken at 5:08 p.m. CDT and shows a hook echo (arrow) just west of Sabinal. This was a severe storm reaching above 50,000 feet into the atmosphere. Hail the size of tennis balls fell at the Joe Causey Farm just north of Sabinal, killing sheep, stripping trees and crops. He also lost all the screens and windows on the north side of the house. Numerous other damage reports were received. Earlier in the afternoon this same storm did considerable damage in Leakey. Radar range on this table is 50 miles, so it is just over 20 miles to the storm pictured. Other echoes (white dots) are ground return, not precipitation. (Photo Courtesy National Weather Service)

June 2-3 Round up Time for County Rodeo

If you love a parade, Friday June 2 will be just your day.

This will mark the start of the Medina County Rodeo Association's big annual two-day rodeo.

The parade will form at 708 18th Street on Friday, June 2 and lead directly to the rodeo arena.

Standard roping and riding events will be given some competition by two other features -- a wild cow milking contest for members and a calf scramble for all kids under 12.

Chairman of the big event is Clay Heyen who promises "The best and biggest MCRA rodeo to date."

For the nimble-footed and high-steppers, a dance will follow each evening, after the rodeo performances, at Hondo City Park.

Don't miss it or you'll be sorry!

Plans set for reading program

by M.S. Shelton
Elementary Supervisor

Plans are being finalized to conduct a reading improvement program in the air-conditioned facilities of McDowell Middle School.

Classes will be held each morning, 8-12 AM, during June and July.

Purpose of this Summer Reading School, consisting of eight classes on different levels, is to help those students in Meyer and McDowell schools, grades 1-8, who are having trouble with reading.

The inability to understand what they read is one of the most common causes of school failure among high school and grade school students everywhere.

Students most in need of this help are identified by their teachers and the recent achievement tests.

Their parents have been notified of this opportunity, through notices sent home by the teachers asking the parents to let the teachers know if their children could attend.

Also, the parents of these children who attended the recent parent-teacher conferences on achievement tests were urged to get their children enrolled. Most of these parents have responded favorably and enough students to assure its operation have indicated they will attend.

A few students, however, who need this program have not enrolled. Parents whose children have reading disability especially those scor-

...the Mayor, disappeared from Hondo a couple of Saturdays ago and never said much about where he was going.

But thanks to a clipping from the Austin American Statesman, we now know. George attended the initial reunion for the 1963 UT Longhorns who walloped Navy in the Cotton Bowl to win the National Championship.

They were all there, or almost all. . . Duke Carlisle, the Most Valuable Back that day from his Quarterback position; Mike Cambell, Knox Nunnally, Charlie Shira, Russell Coffee, David McWilliams, Bill Ellington, Ernie Koy, Pete Lammons, Phil Harris, Hix Green, Joe Dixon, Tom Stockton, Timmy Dooer, Tony Crosby, Scott Appleton, Tommy Ford and George.

The story by Vaughn Aldredge gave much attention to Brucks:

"McWilliams commented on Brucks' two-way ability and pondered whether or not the 60-minute players of his day were tougher than modern griders.

"Brucks, now mayor of Hondo, Texas, arrived resplendent in ten gallon Stetson, prompting speculation that his hair, along with that of other teammates, was thinning. Brucks settled the question quickly, though, doffing the hat and squelching the rumors.

"McWilliams pointed Brucks out as his personal hero of the Cotton Bowl championship-clinching win. 'I thought at the time that he was the outstanding lineman in the game, meaning no disrespect to Scott (Appleton, the press box vote winner) and I still think so.'"

And I bet you my bottom dollar that several thousand Owl football fans will definitely echo McWilliams' sentiment.

Hondo High top graduates

...Wayne Stein, valedictorian of Hondo High, class of 1972, in his "early days" was sophomore class president; a member of Hondo Chapter FFA '68-'72; and was among the cast of both the junior and senior class plays. He also served as FFA reporter '70-'71 and headed the Chapter as president during his senior year. He is also recipient of both the DeKalb agricultural award and a $1000 scholarship to Texas A&M University.

Yvonne Saathoff, salutatorian, began her high school career as 4th vice-president of FFA 1968-'71; was Owl Band president '71-'72; junior representative '70-'71; a member of the Regional Band for three years; elected '72 Band Sweetheart; and was voted the Girl Most Likely to Succeed.

ASCS Rules on Set-Aside

The local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service reminds operators of enrolled farms that June 10 is the final date to certify set-aside, cotton and feed grain acreages.

Certification must be made even though the planted acreage is "Zero".

Other regulations applying include: (1) Set-aside must be of average productivity for the farm. If determined by the County Committee to be below average for the farm, reduction in payment will be made.

(2) Set-aside cannot be grazed between May 14 - Oct. 15. (3) Set-aside cannot have a crop harvested therefrom during 1972, or a crop which matures in 1972 and will be harvested early in 1973.

Also, peanuts must be certified by June 10, even though ZERO acreage is planted. Certification of acreage must be accurate. Measurement service is available at reasonable cost. If you are uncertain about exact acreages, this service could save you costly errors when you certify planted and set-aside acreages, according to the ASCS bulletin.

Operators are urged to certify compliance as soon as program crops are planted and set-aside acreage can be designated. The ASCS office

★ MONDAY IS MEMORIAL DAY ★

Memorial Day, also known as Decoration Day, is one of this country's most solemn holidays. Custom has come to recognize it also as a day for enjoying the first long weekend of summer.

Began in 1866 by a group of Southern ladies as a pilgrimage to Friendship Cemetery, near the site of the bloody Battle of Shiloh, the first Decoration Day impressed citizens of both North and South as an unselfish act of reverence toward the dead of both armies.

Though the bitterness of Reconstruction clouded its spirit in the South, Decoration Day, or Memorial Day, survived as a custom until the U.S. Congress of 1971 created a national holiday on the last Monday of May for its

Museum Board reports on M-Day

Medina County Museum directors met Monday evening to hear a first report on the third annual Museum Day held May 6.

Present were John Ross Wentz, president; Douglas Bohmfalk, vice-president, and members Frank Graff, Tony Mendoza, Miss Winkler, Mrs. Alex Grant, Jr., Mrs. Ella Oefinger and Mrs. E. W. Brucks. The secretary, Mrs.

Oswald Sauer, was unable to attend.

Others present were "ex-officio members" Mrs. Frank Graff, Mrs. John R. Wentz and daughter Kay, and Mrs. Colby Joe Heyen.

Douglas Bohmfalk, as finance chairman of Museum Day, reported $2,578.73 cleared so far but explained that "Several large bills are still outstanding for which statements have not come in."

Bohmalk added, "The amount reported at this meeting is thus not a true picture of our net. Next meeting will see our net figure lowered considerably."

Saturday, June 17 was declared work day at the Museum for volunteers, with plenty of work scheduled.

Plans include bids on a new shingle roof for the old SP depot which now houses the Museum. Bids will be received at the June meeting.

Another tree to match those already growing on the Museum grounds is to be planted soon. James Menke, whose special interest is the history of Medina County, offered a pine seedling and others and the directors accepted his offer with appreciation.

When the State Democratic Convention's opening bell rings in San Antonio on June 13, Medina County will have seven uninstructed delegates on hand.

These seven were named at the County Convention at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 13 with Howard Wallace, chairman; Sister Patricia Sullivan, Sister Anita Brenek, Wm. E. Berger, Mrs. L. J. Oefinger, Francis C. Richter and Ruth C. Lawler.

Alternates include: Hugh Meyer, Mrs. Howard Wallace, Oswald Sauer, Jerome Decker, Clemons Finger, Allen Lee and John G. Wemette.

Letters from the mailbox

Dear Editor:

As I go through Dad's files, I find his paid advertisements on such matters as anti-parking meters and prayers for the relief of drought.

I haven't heard anything recently, but WATCH OUT--GUARD AGAINST--Hondo's being by-passed by U. S. 90. It is ironic: the City and/or County bears the expense for the right of way for the project which ultimately is an economic detriment, rather than a benefit to the community and its taxpaying citizens.

To see what happens when a city is "looped", see: Columbus, Flatonia, Schulenburg, Weimer, Waelder to name a few. I don't know what will happen to Luling. I-10 has been open so briefly. Of course, Seguin has some depth of its own, including Texas Lutheran College, and is perhaps an exception "which proves the rule".

Very truly yours,

Local newspaper best ad medium

The decision of an airline to switch the major portion of its advertising from other media to newspapers is understandable when the nature of the newspaper reading audience is considered.

Independent research companies which have studied markets and advertising media have found that newspaper readership increases as the educational and economic level of a public becomes higher.

It does not take much imagination to reach the conclusion that the majority of people who are regular airline customers are in the higher economic and social brackets.

There is another important reason, however, why the local newspaper may be the best medium for consistent airline advertising. Who remembers even a simple airline schedule? Practically no one who is busy enough to be flying by air.

The newspaper is important in listing airline schedules for the same reason that it is invaluable for advertising movies, television programs, and grocery prices. It is a ready reference which relieves the consumer of recalling details which will not or can not be remembered.

The local newspaper is retained in the home until the next issue arrives largely to serve as a substitute for imperfect memory.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Congressman Kazen in Washington

I returned to Washington last week, somewhat weary from the primary election campaign but very grateful that my performance as a Congressman had won such wide approval among my constituents. I renew my pledge to continue working energetically for the best interests of our country and South Texas.

There were many benefits to me in my travels through the district because I always welcome opportunities to talk with my fellow citizens, but there were also many responsibilities waiting for me in Washington.

None is more serious than the war in Vietnam. There is a growing sentiment that the Congress should step up its efforts to end American participation in that war. As you know, President Nixon last week announced new policy decisions concerning United States' participation. I believe that the President sincerely wants to end our involvement, just as President Johnson did before him. His new policy decisions were taken as Commander-in-Chief, without consultation with or approval of Congressional leaders, so he has assumed great responsibilities.

Reaction Uncertain
As this report is prepared, we do not know what final reaction there may be from North Vietnam or other major powers backing our enemy. I believe few people can oppose the broad policy of the President's three proposals: Return of American prisoners of war; a cease-fire; and withdrawal of all American forces within four months.

I do not see immediate effects from the mining of North Vietnam ports. Supplies already in the hands of enemy troops or en route to them cannot be affected by stopping the sea routes, but the military drives into South Vietnam will have to be faced by the South Vietnamese themselves.

We can be sure that the Chinese Communists are watching developments closely. The President has said we may have to bomb the rail lines that have been their supply line to North Vietnam, but past bombings have not effectively slowed their supply down the enemy war machine. Military estimates have differed sharply on how effective bombing might be, but the record shows that the enemy forces have maintained offensive strength despite past bombings.

There is another factor. China may not be totally displeased if Moscow's support for North Vietnam is reduced.

The Peking government has apparently been anxious to have Hanoi more dependent on Chinese help than on Russian. It is possible that Hanoi will decide that the President's terms are acceptable and that it may begin genuine negotiations.

No Dunkirk
I believe that any settlement must bring release of the prisoners and mutual understanding that our withdrawal will not mean another Dunkirk. Any cease-fire would have to provide guarantees that our men would not be fired upon, and airports and ships would not be shelled during withdrawal.

I do not suggest that every American must welcome the President's proposal, but I believe all should recognize that if his new plan fails, all of us lose. If he succeeds, there are benefits for all. I sincerely believe that those Americans who are denouncing the President — and there are some in Congress who talk of impeaching Mr. Nixon — are not serving the national interest in this time of crisis.

Mr. Nixon will stand before the bar of public opinion in the November election. Our system provides for our judgment then. Meanwhile, I pray that his plan to end the war will succeed.

RC&D Plans For Wise Use Of Area Resources

The creation of a dynamic and prospering rural community is the far-reaching goal of a new program being developed at AACOG, in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service, that could well become a national model for other rural areas to follow.

Known as the Resource Conservation and Development program (RC&D), the plan aims at utilizing the rural community's most valuable commodities, its natural resources, to expand opportunities and develop a favorable climate for capital investment. And, as the name implies, these resources are to be conserved and protected while they are developed to benefit the area.

Purpose of the RC&D program in the Alamo region is to plan for the wise use, development, and conservation of the region's natural resources. The development of this plan will qualify the area for special federal rural aid programs administered by the Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The SCS, represented locally by Thomas G. Rockenbaugh, area conservationist in Fredericksburg, and J.M. Presley, district conservationist in San Antonio, is assisting AACOG members in developing this region's RC&D model.

Now in the organizational stage, the Resource Conservation and Development plans will call for a project area which, except for Gillespie County, is coterminous with the AACOG region. It will also be the first RC&D program in the nation to be an integral part of a Council of Governments' structure, a position that lends to the program the already existing strengths of regional planning and inter-governmental cooperation as well as the ability to use AACOG staff in its development and implementation. These will be essential ingredients in the hoped-for success of RC&D.

As the model is being developed, planners are building into it the concept of local leadership and control. The bylaws will call for organization of RC&D committees in each county to play a vital role in the county goals committee structure, which already includes a broad cross-section of the area's residents. The RC&D committee will include all project sponsors and such additional members as are required to carry out the program.

Involvement of all the people in development of their own area requires effective leadership and the generation of local support, which is the task facing RC&D committee members. They will undertake to analyze community problems and to develop alternative resolutions to these problems, based on a sound appraisal of their resources.

Parts of this strategy are already underway. The county goals committees are identifying their county priorities and needs, and these can be the basis for the analysis of community problems. They will carry a note of authority since the priorities will have been established by the residents themselves.

A second phase of the program is the gathering of natural resource data, on a county-by-county basis, for integration into a regional plan. The Soil and Water Conservation Districts and SCS representatives in each county have undertaken this project.

Regionwide coordination of the RC&D project will be in the hands of a Steering Committee, composed of one representative from each county's RC&D committee, who is elected by the members of that group. Until the RC&D committees are established, an interim Steering Committee of Soil and Water Conservation District representatives is already operating. These current members include Herman Blank, of the Comal-Hays-Guadalupe S&WCD; Tony Jennings, Bandera County; Joe E. Nickel, Kendall County; Elmer Pape, Alamo; I.B. Ray, Wilson County; Jimmy Seay, Atascosa County; and Harlan Wolff, Medina Valley.

As presently outlined, the objectives of the Steering Committee will be to advise the AACOG Executive Committee on all program and policy matters pertaining to the wise use, development and conservation of the area's natural resources, and to make recommendations on programs affecting these resources. The Steering Committee will also serve as the focal point for coordinating and developing a Work Plan for the RC&D area and will provide technical assistance to project sponsors in implementing the plan.

One additional goal for the RC&D steering group will be to promote public awareness of necessary and orderly regional development and wise use of regional resources. Theirs will be not only a technical planning role, but a very essential leadership and educational role as well. Only by succeeding in all these phases can the RC&D project really work.

The benefits to follow the successful implementation of RC&D in the Alamo region are both immediate and long-range. Initially, the most important gain will be in federal support, through resource conservation and development loans, to put into effect the elements of the Work Plan. This can include installation or improvement of rural community outdoor-oriented facilities; soil and water development, conservation, control and use facilities; shift-inland use facilities; community water storage facilities; and the special-purpose equipment necessary to carry out these projects. To qualify for these funds, however, the region must first be recognized by the USDA as an RC&D project area.

Other gains should come later, in the eventual revitalization of rural communities. People who have chosen the small towns and rural areas as their homes will, through careful use of natural resources, be able to enjoy non-urban life without having to sacrifice economic opportunity in the process, a situation that is all too rare at present.

And, that is what RC&D's pilot project is all about.

Construction set for FM 3176

INDUSTRIAL WEEK

... awards are had to come by. Or so it seems. The Hondo Chamber of Commerce sponsored a whining Texas Industrial Week this year, but a letter from the Texas Manufacturers Association last week revealed we barely made honorable mention.

This was a great change from 1967 when Hondo won first place in towns below 10,000 population. Which prompted Harry Fillemann to tell me: "I guess it must have been because of your chairmanship, for when I handled it by myself in 1967 we won first place."

Anyway, Harry and the Chamber Board of Directors feel we did have a fine week and helped local residents come to know their industries better. And after all, that is the purpose of the entire project.

On hand to make the presentation were W. R. Faust, Assistant District Engineer, (left) and C. E. Hackbeil, Supervising Resident Engineer. Westbrook's career with Westbrook, who married Claire Hugman, and has three sons, is a member of St. John's Catholic Church.

State asks for county crop reports

During the last half of May, some 22,000 Texas farmers will receive a crop acreage questionnaire from Charles E. Caudill, agricultural statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin.

This information will be the basis for determining the planted acreage for the State of Texas and for each county, according to Glenn Bragg, county agricultural agent.

Reports are needed from many farmers in the state's 254 counties so that each county will be well represented.

"Accurate estimates are of great importance to farmers in planning production and marketing and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture," said Bragg.

"The Texas Legislature was provided a program of estimates for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that State totals alone do not provide adequate information on the State's most basic industry--agriculture," added Bragg. "This is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture."

Seco Watershed Easements Secured

D'Hanis residents will soon breathe a sigh of relief as a new flood control dam is built across the Parker's Creek on the Odie Gilliam Ranch.

The May newsletter of Medina Valley Conservation District No. 226 reports that all easements for the Gilliam site have been obtained, and that agreements are being negotiated among the Medina Valley S&WCD, Medina County, the Soil Conservation Service, and the Edwards Underground Water District.

County Judge Jerome Decker reported Tuesday that appropriations have been obtained for the project, leaving only legal paperwork to be completed before bids can be let.

The structure is one of a series of dams to be paid for by the Edwards Underground Water District and constructed and supervised by the Soil Conservation Service, to provide flood control throughout the Seco Watershed. The County will be responsible for maintenance and contract costs, and the Medina Valley S&WCD will have responsibility for land treatment on the upstream watershed.

The flooding Parker's has repeatedly caused heavy damages to D'Hanis residents in years past, and the new structure on the Gilliam ranch will provide valuable protection for down-stream property owners.

Committee approves Amistad Park

The Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee on May 17 gave a favorable report approving Senator Bentzen's bill (S. 1295) proposing the Amistad National Recreation Area. The Full Committee report will be ready within a few days and will be sent to the Senate floor for action.

The estimated costs to establish the 65,000 acre Amistad National Recreation Area, projected on a five year basis, would be $1,020,000 for land acquisition, which includes $46,924 relocation assistance funding, and approximately $19,000,000 for development expense, a total of $20,067,924.

"Amistad National Recreation Area," Senator Bentzen said, "will be an international meeting place for the people of Mexico and the United States to come to enjoy and get to better know each other in the environment of this international reservoir of 'Friendship' created by the cooperation of the two Governments."

Texas Board Issues Orders

AUSTIN, Texas--Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, is instructing Texas Draft Boards to issue Induction Orders to all 1972 First Priority Selection Group men with Lottery numbers of 35 or below.

Each registrant to be inducted is given at least 30 days notice before his Induction Reporting Date. All Induction Orders for June will be issued by May 31, 1972.

Glantz said there is no quota of men for Texas, but he expects the June Call to result in approximately 650 inductions in Texas.

Glantz also said men in the 1972 First Priority Selection Group with Lottery Numbers of 75 and below could expect orders for a Pre-Induction Physical Examination in June or July.

Jerry Prikrly, chairman of Local Board No. 48, said two Induction Orders will be issued in Frio, Medina, La Salle counties.

Sixteen men will also be issued orders for Pre-Induction Physical Examinations soon," said Prikrly.

Kay Martin wins $200 for recipe

First place winner of the Texas Grain Fed Beef contest, sponsored by Texas Agricultural Products (TAP) was Kay Martin, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rothe Martin, of Hondo. At the State Beef Cook Off, held in Austin, Kay was one of 24 state finalists. She placed first in the category of casseroles and stews with her "Davy Crockett's Delight." Several thousand persons throughout the state competed in the contest, according to Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. The winning recipe was judged partly on the original use of Texas products.

Kay's $200 prize winning recipe follows:

"Davy Crockett's Delight"

Ingredients
1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
1 lb can stewed tomatoes
1 small can hot tomato sauce
1 small can whole ripe olives, pitted & drained
1 pkg. enchilada mix
1 tsp salt
1/4 tsp black pepper
1 egg
1 12oz container small curd cottage cheese
1/2 lb Jack cheese grated
1 large (63¢) pkg Doritos Tortilla Chips
1 10-oz pkg Cheddar cheese grated
Method

In a heavy skillet, brown the Texas Grain Fed Beef. Stir in stewed tomatoes, tomato sauce, olives, enchilada mix, salt & pepper. Warm gently.

Beat egg and add to cottage cheese. Into a large (3 qt.) casserole, spread 1/3 meat sauce, top with 1/2 of Jack cheese and 1/2 of cottage cheese mixture. Top all with grated Cheddar cheese. Garnish with a few broken tortilla chips. Bake uncovered at 350° for about 20 minutes. Serves 10 to 12 generously.

That's all she wrote

by Edna McDade

Exactly how many issues of the Anvil Herald it might take, I wouldn't know but readers planning to build a house someday in the sweet by and by might be interested in this information which comes from Pigeon Cove, Mass.

A resident of that area, concerned about the waste of discarded newspapers and the ecological problem, determined to do something about it.

In time, he collected 65,000 daily newspapers from which he made wallboards, 215 sheets thick, laminated under pressure and waterproofed with varnish. Shingles were made of the same materials.

In the 1920's, Ellis F. Stetman built the now famous paper cottage which still stands. Maybe, if you start saving Anvil Heralds this week (after reading them, of course), you too might have a house to prove it, say along about 2022 A.D.

USDA has proved that dairy cows thrive on shredded waste paper when mixed with soybean meal, molasses and some minerals.

If, some morning you think the cream in your coffee tastes like something you've read, this might be how come!

Soon after the recent rains, street intersections held small pools that were the delight of birds out for a morning dip.

One such pool at the intersection of Ave M and 28th Street added to my own delight when I saw reflected in it the tall yellow flower lilies in the yard of the F.D. GARRISONS. For added color, a redbird was having a dip and sip and scarcely noticed as I drove by on the other side of the street, very slowly, so as not to disturb him.

Occasionally we have news of DON WENZL whom many readers might remember when he was advertising manager of the Herald some years ago.

A recent letter from Don reports that he has finished all the required course work for a Ph. D. degree and expects to take the comprehensive exams, followed by doing and defending his dissertation.

Don still gets about in his wheel chair and he is losing his sight.

All of his study is done from tapes. "No Man of La Mancha, I," he writes, "but I'm still willing to work for and chase after 'impossible dreams'". He adds, "The only thing that bugs me about this necessitous adjustable behavior . . . is that I still have ink in my veins!"

That he will continue to put that gift to its most effective use, friends feel confident and wish him well.

***

When GLENN BRAGG, county ag-agent, saw ANNETTE AELVOET at work in the paste-up department of the Herald, he said, "I forget your name" by way of having a bit of fun at her expense. "What is it?"

When Annette came back with, "I forget", Glenn was equally ready and asked "Oh, which do you go by, I, or Forget?"

Said Annette, "I forget". Touche' and so much for that repartee!

***

It was a special pleasure to have had a phone call last week from Mrs. RAUL (Paloma) LOPEZ whom I had met in LAURA WINDROW'S Ben Franklin Store last summer. We chatted in Spanish since she said her English was "a little crippled".

Paloma's home is in Spain and she and Raul were married some eight years ago when he was in the service there. Since then they have made their home in Hondo and their three children were born here. Javier is 7; Palomita 6; and Sergio is three. They will leave tomorrow, May 26, for Madrid for her first visit since she left.

In August, Raul who is a civil service employee at Kelly AFB, will fly there to bring his family back home. Paloma called to tell me how happy they all are about the pending visit and said she would send me greetings from Madrid. "Feliz viaje y regreso" is my wish for the travelers.

BETH (Mrs. Harold) HERRING declares that she is not vain but does admit that, as a child, she used to bump right into things when she had on new finery, so intent was she on self-admiration.

"I can still feel the bump I got when I let myself get carried away with a new rabbit fur coat and some white boots which made me feel like the grandest grownup anywhere. What I got as a result was a busted chin!"

Riley Golf Tournament slated June 3 and 4

Plans have been announced for the annual Earl V. Riley Golf Tournament at the Hondo Golf Course on Saturday and Sunday, June 3 and 4.

Each participant will play one 18 hole round each day, with a 2 p.m. shotgun start. Medal (stroke) play with handicap will be used. Members will play in flights to be set up by the tournament committee. Men and women will play under the same rules but in separate flights.

To be eligible for the tournament, one must have been a member since January 1972 with dues paid through May 1972.

Entry fee for the tournament will be $4 and must be paid by May 28. An additional charge of $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 will be made for a chicken barbecue to be reserved after the tournament on Sunday. Extra plates must be reserved along with entry fee.

After the final day's play the prizes will be awarded to the following: Club Champion (men), club champion (women), flight winners (low net) (both divisions), flight runner-up (men only), lowest number of putts (men and women). All putts must be putted.

A golf ball will be given each day to the player whose tee shot is nearest the hole on No. 5. Another ball will be given to the player hitting the longest drive on Fairway No. 2. These will be awarded in both men and women divisions.

On June 4 the Hondo Golf Association will hold its annual meeting at 1 p.m. and will elect officers and two new directors.

Eagles drop 7-6 decision to 90's Rally in 8th

The Hondo Eagles fell victim to an 8th-inning four-run rally by the Medina Valley 90's to drop an exciting 7-6 decision Sunday in a baseball game played at Medina Valley.

The 90's struck for a single run in the second inning on doubles by Hoog and Boehme. They added another run in the fifth on singles by Groda, Hahn, and Bippert, and a sacrifice fly by Hoog. The 90's built a 5th-inning 2-0 lead for starter Bruce Groda.

The Eagles struck back in the 6th with a 5-run outburst on a fielding error on Johnny Miranda's fly, singles by Rusty Beard and Mario Garcia, a fielder's choice on Johnny Abreg's grounder, and singles by Myron Saathoff, Oscar Herrera, and Tom Hill. The eagle rally gave starter Rusty Beard a 5-2 lead.

Medina Valley came back with a single run in the seventh on Bob Bippert's double and Bill Bippert's sacrifice fly. The Eagles retallied with what they thought would be an insurance run in the 8th on a double by Oscar Herrera and a single by Joe Santos, making it 6-3 Eagles.

But the 8th inning wasn't over yet, Ralph Hoog singled, Burrel walked, and Boehme singled Hoog in to score. Burrel reached third as he crashed into Eagle 3rd baseman Santos to spoil a fine throw by centerfielder Miranda. Both Burrel and Boehme, who had reached second, scored on left-fielder Abregot error on fly by Keller. Keller then scored on Bob Bippert's single. Eagle reliever Dave Beard choked off the rally at this point, but not before the 90's had put four runs on the board.

The Eagles had the tying run on first with two out in the 9th and cleanup batter Rusty Beard at the plate, but left-handed Jerry Burrel picked off the runner to end the game.

The Eagles return to friendly grounds Sunday as they host the Fredericksburg Cubs at Pruneda Park. Mario Garcia will take to the mound as the Eagles open the second round of play in the Hill Country League.

Little League Majors, Minors swing into action

The Hondo area Little League season got underway this week, with the Pirates taking a quick lead over the Majors, and the Hustlers and Speedsters locked in a tie for the Minor lead.

In Major action, the Pirates held back the Yankees 4-2, and later buried the Rangers 18-2 to remain undefeated. The Rangers and Aggies were too evenly matched as they fought to an 8-inning, 3-3 deadlock.

The Braves nosed out the Giants 4-2 in a game which saw John Hare strike out 16 and Michael Hackebell hit a home run. The Angels beat the Yankees 5-4, and the Giants defeated the Aggies 6-3.

In the Minor League, Nations and Tondre combined for an 8-0 shutout of the Hornets by the Speedsters, and another shutout by Witte of the Hustlers sank the Mets 24-0. The Hustlers also defeated the Cowboys 14-5.

The Speedsters knocked off the Astros 4-1, after the Astros edged the Tigers 3-2. The Indians defeated the winless Cowboys 11-4. The Hustlers and Speedsters both stand undefeated in Minor League play.
